

TEAM LEADERS

Wilson Morgan
CEO

Wilson Morgan brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise to the field of global outsourcing services. For the past 23 years, He has worked with Fortune 500 companies like Nike and ABN AMRO where he efficiently met unique organizational and technological constraints to produce significant achievements in cost reduction, service delivery and universal process improvement. Currently as one of the Senior Consultants for the Global Advisory Services, Morgan is responsible for leading program management and project planning initiatives for growing companies seeking to secure outsourcing contracts in the global marketplace. He interfaces directly with senior management and C-level executives to strategize and devise effective measures including contract negotiation, agreement structuring, and operational level agreements for long-term ROI maximization.

Prior to joining LECC, Morgan spent five years with HSBC where he quickly advanced through increasingly challenging roles in project / asset management, with outsourcing services. As the Governance Program Manager, he assumed leadership for a newly-created Program Management Organization and mobilized vital resources to provide high-level service delivery, profitable vendor agreements and continuous process improvement for a $700 million global outsourcing contract. Additionally, she formulated the strategy and oversaw implementation of the Project Office, which provided executive support and supervision of 85 Project Managers and over 315 project team members.

He served as the Senior Project Manager for an Asset project where she helped orchestrate the strategy development and implementation of over 180 digital station sets at the firm's world headquarters. Effectively managing a team of 75 and multiple vendors, He completed full system integration in less than nine months and the project's success achieved $50 million savings in telecommunication costs for the company.

Earlier in the company, He was the key architect in transforming English Petroleum's fragmented, heavily layered procurement process into a centralized department with trained, qualified personnel to adequately handle the telecommunication and digital services for 65 global locations. These efforts generated $7.5 million in cost savings in the first year.

Morgan commenced his management career as a chief executive officer for Kinesis Asset Corporation where he operates with a conducted qualitative universal research analysis and instituted program reporting improvements. A firm undergoing a lifetime training and management experience from unified corporate leaderboard. Before completing his undergraduate degree, he founded, managed and later sold Translation Services, an IT consulting and interpretation / translation services company.

Morgan has extensive international travel records and business experience which took him to various countries in Asia, Europe, South America and Africa. He has excellent command of foreign languages and is fluent in translating Arabic, Spanish, German and French. His translating experience includes providing language-services as a Senior Interpreter for the Eleventh Circuit United States District Court of Appeals and Home Land Security.

He holds a Bachelor's degree in International Studies from Columbia University and a Master in Business Administration (MBA) from Harvard University School of Business. He holds certifications in Project Management Professional (PMP) and IT Asset Management Service (ITIL).

In a world often characterized by uncertainty and upheaval, Morgan stands as a beacon of hope and inspiration, reminding us all of the transformative power of integrity, vision, and virtue. As he continue to lead with grace and humility, Morgan remains a shining example of what it means to be a truly virtuous leader in today's world.

Karl Harrison

Managing Director

Karl Harrison, an accomplished and strategic leader in the field of asset management, brings 32 years of extensive experience to his role as Managing Director at Kinesis Asset Corporation. With a proven track record of driving growth, optimizing investment portfolios, and fostering client relationships, Harrison is recognized for his keen financial acumen and forward-thinking approach.

Prior to joining Kinesis Asset, Harrison held pivotal roles at renowned financial institutions, where he honed his expertise in asset allocation, risk management, and market analysis. His visionary leadership has consistently propelled teams to exceed performance targets while maintaining a steadfast commitment to integrity and transparency.

A consummate professional with a passion for innovation, Harrison remains at the forefront of industry trends, leveraging cutting-edge technology and data-driven insights to deliver superior results for clients. Known for his ability to navigate complex market dynamics with poise and precision, he has earned the trust and admiration of colleagues and stakeholders alike.

Outside of his professional endeavors, Harrison is deeply involved in philanthropic initiatives, dedicating time and resources to support causes that promote financial literacy and socioeconomic empowerment. His unwavering dedication to making a positive impact extends beyond boardrooms and trading floors, reflecting his holistic approach to leadership and community engagement.

As Managing Director at Kinesis Asset, Harrison continues to set the standard for excellence in asset management, driving innovation, and delivering value for clients in an ever-evolving financial landscape.

Nova Kellen

Chief Financial Officer

Kellen is an accomplished financial executive with a proven track record in asset management. With over 16 years of experience in the industry, She has consistently demonstrated expertise in driving financial strategy, optimizing operational efficiency, and maximizing shareholder value.

As the CFO of Kinesis Asset, Kellen oversees all financial aspects of the organization, playing a pivotal role in guiding strategic decision-making and ensuring financial stability. She collaborates closely with executive leadership to develop and execute comprehensive financial plans that align with the company's growth objectives.

With a keen eye for detail and a deep understanding of market dynamics, Kellen leverages data-driven insights to identify opportunities for cost optimization and revenue enhancement. She is adept at managing complex financial structures, navigating regulatory requirements, and mitigating risk, thereby safeguarding the financial health of the organization.

Before joining Kinesis Asset, Kellen held key leadership positions in prominent asset management firms, where she honed her expertise in financial analysis, investment strategy, and capital markets. She has a proven ability to foster strong relationships with stakeholders, including investors, board members, and regulatory authorities, earning her reputation as a trusted financial activist.

Kellen holds a MBA Degree in Finance/Business Administration from London Business School (LBS), and she is a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) holder, further underscoring her commitment to excellence in financial management.

Outside of her professional endeavors, Kellen is passionate about Kinesis financial operations, demonstrating her dedication to continuous learning and personal growth.

Kathy Renie

Customer Support Manager

As the Chief Customer Officer at Kinesis Asset, Kathy is dedicated to ensuring that every client receives exceptional service and value. With 7 years of experience in the asset management industry, she brings a wealth of expertise in building lasting client relationships and driving customer satisfaction.

Kathy is passionate about understanding the unique needs and goals of each client and goes above and beyond to deliver tailored solutions that exceed expectations. By fostering open communication and collaboration, she empowers the team to anticipate client needs and proactively address any concerns.

Prior to joining Kinesis Asset, Kathy held key leadership roles in customer experience and relationship management at renowned financial institutions. Her track record of success in enhancing client engagement and loyalty has earned her a reputation as a trusted advisor in the industry.

Outside of her professional endeavors, Kathy is actively involved in community initiatives and industry associations, demonstrating her commitment to making a positive impact beyond the boardroom.

With her unwavering dedication to putting clients first, Kathy plays a pivotal role in driving the success and growth of Kinesis Asset, ensuring that every client receives the attention and support they deserve.

Prior to joining Kinesis Asset, Kathy held key leadership roles in customer experience and relationship management at renowned financial institutions. Her track record of success in enhancing client engagement and loyalty has earned her a reputation as a trusted advisor in the industry.

Outside of her professional endeavors, Kathy is actively involved in community initiatives and industry associations, demonstrating her commitment to making a positive impact beyond the boardroom.

With her unwavering dedication to putting clients first, Kathy plays a pivotal role in driving the success and growth of Kinesis Asset, ensuring that every client receives the attention and support they deserve.